Hello Seller,

I am a procurement agent interested in immediate purchase of your item. After several considerations over the advert placed on the website, my client has really shown interest in it and would really want to issue the payment in form of Cashiers Check or money order. Will you be accepting a Cashiers Check? The cashiers check that will be drawn by my client would include the cost for shipping this item to my client and my commission would be included on the same Cashiers Check. We shall solely be responsible for the shipment of the item. Please contact me asap via email for futher questions as regards this transaction if you really show willingness in selling this item asap.Thank You and I am expecting your response asap...Thanks

The only question i will like to ask u is;

1. can we trust u with the money?
2. will u be able to wire transfer the excess the same day u receive the CASHIER CHECK ?
3. will u be available when the shipping company will be comingf or the pickup?
4. is the working condition of the item okay?
5. can we take u for ur words? with ur reply to this questions,it will give me the power to authorise my client to issue out the US CASHIER CHECK for u as soon as possible. and again which name is to be written on the US CASHIER CHECK that will be sent,so we hope all is well understood and if u can work things out with us then get back to me with the name u want to be written on the check and ur address in full ok.....hope to hear from u soon

Regards.....

Note:i wil be glad if u can send me ur personal number too ok

1. Yeah, sure. I have a cocaine habit and a hefty gambling debt but I don't think that should matter.
2. I have no problem wiring money out of the country from my personal account before your rubber check clears!
3. Yep, I don't have a job so I'm always here unless I'm trying to avoid a bill collector or stalking the Avon Lady around the block.
4. Yeah, the item works great. Needs a new top and bottom end, and maybe a total suspension revalve but other than that it runs like a top! The great thing about it is I have a professionally installed gap between the cases so you don't have to change the oil, it leaks out automatically so you just fill it up and gravity does your oil changes!
5. Hey, don't I sound like a guy you can trust? Don't worry, I'm your man!

I need $2500 for the bike, make the check out to Aaron P. Fuddlebuster and send it to me at

2665 Tinoso Cir
Pensacola, FL 32526

I'll be looking for your check. The bike is hot so I really need to put in somebody else's hands and your client sounds like the right person! Tell him to give me a call on IP relay and we'll talk/type about it.

Sincerely,
Aaron P. Fuddlebuster
